WOULD PREFER PEACE.

ENGLISHMEN WANT NO MORE WAR IN CHILI.

Statistics on the South Sea Island Industry Asked For—France's Quarrel With the Church—Gambling at Monte Carlo—Russian Distress.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The news of the critical relations between the United States and Chili has excited lively interest here, especially in circles interested in South American trade. As English capital virtually controls the nitrate deposits, and is established in that country more firmly than ever by the result of the war, these is a general desire on the part of those interested for peace. War between the United States and Chili would mean, sooner or later, a blockage of Chilian ports and interference with trade. The English nitrate princes, of whom Col. North is the chief, do not object to the Chilians hating the Americans and boycotting American trade, but they do object to a war that would interfere with English trade. It is thought probable that English influence will be used to induce the Chilians to give satisfaction to the Americans.

THE PRINTERS' STRIKE.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—Several of the master printers of this city have made representations to the authorities that the strike against them is incited by a Socialist conspiracy. The charge is being investigated by the police, and if found true the ringleaders of the strike will be prosecuted. The great number of the masters show no signs of yielding, while the men are fully as stubborn.

THE POSSESSION OF EGYPT.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Tories are making extensive use of Mr. Gladstone's proposed abandonment of Egypt, and their speakers are making that the principal burden of their addresses. The argument is having considerable weight, and there are marked signs of disaffection in the Liberal ranks on the subject. General Sir Charles Walker said yesterday that England might as well prepare to abandon India itself as to surrender Egypt and the Suez Canal, which would be controlled by any power occupying Egypt. It is said that Gladstone's speech is responsible for the revival by Turkey of the demand of the abandonment of Egypt.

THE MONTE CARLO TABLES.

PARIS, Oct. 26.—A letter from Monaco says that, owing to the strong influence being brought to bear on the closing of the gambling establishment at Monte Carlo, the proprietor, Blanco, has sent a proposition to the little republic of San Marino for his removal there should he be compelled to leave Monaco. Notwithstanding the pressure brought to bear by President Carnot, it is not believed that Blanco will be obliged to move, as the loss of the revenue would be disastrous to the reigning Prince of Monaco.

JEWISH REFUGEES.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—The Kaiser, it is said, has ordered all matters connected with the Jewish exodus from Russia, so far as it affects Germany, to be gathered under the direction of Chancellor Caprivi and made the subject of a special report to the Kaiser, who probably intends to take some action on the subject during the coming session of the Reichstag. The Jewish committees in Berlin, Hamburg and other places, are more actively engaged than ever in forwarding refugees, mostly to the United States.

THE POPE AND FRANCE.

ROME, Oct. 26.—It is said the prosecution of the Archbishop of Aix by the French government has made a great change in the attitude of the Pope toward the French Republic. The Pope has shown by his letter to the Archbishop that he sympathizes with the latter in his difficulties, and it is thought not unlikely that the Pope will emphasize his approval of the Archbishop's conduct by creating him a cardinal.

TROOPS INSTEAD OF BREAD.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 26.—Two regiments of infantry and one of cavalry have been ordered to the famine districts to assist the authorities to preserve order.

A BERLIN JACK THE RIPPER.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—A man named Schultze, a clerk out of employment, was arrested on suspicion of being the murderer of Hedwig Nioche, an abandoned woman, whose horribly mutilated body was found in a room in a disreputable quarter of the city at an early hour yesterday.

MINERS ON STRIKE.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Eight thousand miners employed in Worcestershire and Staffordshire to-day struck against a proposed reduction of wages of 10 per cent.

FLOODS IN FRANCE.

PARIS, Oct. 26.—Dispatches from the south of France say the floods are rapidly growing worse, while the rainfall is generally increasing.

European Crops.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Sir John Lawes issued to-day his 40th annual crop estimate for the United Kingdom. He concludes that the consumption will be 28,525,961 quarters; the crop 9,000,000 quarters, from which he deducts two bushels per acre for seed, leaving rather more than 8,333,333 quarters for consumption. The requirements for imported wheat will therefore amount to 20,000,000 quarters, which agrees with the amount recently estimated.

The Times' Berlin correspondent cables as follows: "I have received private telegrams from St. Petersburg which state that an imperial interdict on the export of bread stuffs, especially such as barley, oats and maize, is expected there in the course of the next few days. There is also a belief that the prohibition will sooner or later extend to buckwheat and millet, which are much used for food by the Russian people. At the same time an unofficially inspired Russian telegraph agency here continues to contradict the reports of any such intention being entertained for the present by the Russian government. This is very like what was done only a few days before the actual issue of the first Russian prohibition on the export of rye. We have received confirmation through two private sources, both of which agree, to the effect that the ukase has been resolved upon and will be issued to-day or next Saturday."

JOHN HOEY.

Lately Expelled From the Presidency of the Adams Express Company.

The surprise felt by the general public at the expulsion of John Hoey from the presidency of the Adams Express Company is not shared by the few business men who are said to have known for months that the veteran was badly involved. Mr. Hoey recognizes the right of the Board of Managers to vote him out of the presidency and to take away his Trusteeship, but he does not yield to them the power to remove him from membership in their own body, to which he was elected for one year in February last. A meeting of the stockholders could expel him from the board. Exact particulars of Mr. Hoey's indebtedness to the Adams Express Company are not yet known.

John Hoey was born in Ireland, the son of a peasant, in 1825. He was only ten years old when he went to Dublin to earn his own living. After a year's service with a storekeeper, he became a cabin boy on a ship bound for New York. Upon his arrival in America he was a newsboy, and was altogether three years employed in newspaper work of a humble sort. Then he became an express boy, in the service of a letter expressman. In this employment he continued until the Adams Express Company bought out his employer, when his services were transferred to the new concern. This was in 1841, when the Adams Express Company was about a year old. Hoey was at first messenger boy for the company, then polisher of harness, driver, porter and clerk. He subsequently established an express line running to Charleston, S.C., which was subsequently merged into the business of the Adams Express Company, to Mr. Hoey's considerable financial advantage. During the war Hoey made half a million dollars, most of it by speculation. He was elected unanimously president of the Adams Express Company on May 10, 1888. His elegant mansion is situated at Hollymond Park, N.J.

NINETEEN LOST.

Fatal Collision of two Vessels Near Plymouth.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The British steamer Boston, from Cardiff for London, arrived at Falmouth, has been in collision with the British bark Charlwood, 159 tons, Captain Salmon, bound from Antwerp for Valparaiso. The Charlwood foundered almost immediately after the collision, with the loss of 16 lives. Three men were killed on the Boston at the time of the collision, and the steamer's bows were badly stove in. The captain of the Charlwood, his wife, son, governess, and stewardess, together with all the bark's officers and six seamen, a total of 16 persons, were drowned in spite of the desperate efforts made by the lifeboats of the vessel which happened to be near the scene of the collision. Only the apprentice and the captain's daughter were saved. The efforts at life-saving were greatly hampered by the darkness which prevailed at the time the accident took place, 4:45 o'clock in the morning. The spot where the two boats met is not far from the Eddystone rock, 14 miles from Plymouth.

Moore Estate Lawsuit—The Indian Affray—Election Cases.

OTTAWA, Oct. 26.—A case, involving over $10,000,000, pending in chancery for some time over the settlement of the Moore lumber estate, was settled to-day privately. This case arose from a quarrel between members of the family.

The report of a fight between Blood Indians and Mounted Police near Fort Macleod, where it was said several were killed on both sides, arose out of the affray described on Saturday. One mounted policeman got his ear shot off and one Indian was killed.

South Sea Sealing.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Lord Knutsford, Secretary of State for the Colonial department, requested the governments of the Australian colonies to supply the Canadian government with statistical reports in regard to the decline of seal fisheries in the southern hemisphere. The statistics are for the use of the British Commissioners in connection with the Behring Sea negotiations.

CASE OF THE SETTLERS.

MEETING HELD AT NANAIMO ON SATURDAY.

Mr. Patterson's Report on His Visit to Ottawa—Condemnation of the Government's Action—Mr. Gordon Heard in His Own Defence.

NANAIMO, Oct. 26.—A largely attended meeting was held in the Institute Hall on Saturday night, for the purpose of receiving the report on Mr. T. Patterson's visit to Ottawa. Mr. Gordon, M. P., was present by special invitation. Mr. Hodgson occupied the chair and in doing so stated the objects of the meeting.

Mr. T. Patterson arose amid applause and gave his report in a clear and precise manner. He commenced by referring to the manner in which the settlers acquired the lands and the way in which they had been swindled out of the mineral rights by the Minister of the Interior at Ottawa, and he explained that it was a matter that should be dealt with by the Provincial Legislature. During Mr. Patterson's lengthy address he dealt with the case at every point, showing how the land had been improved under the settlers' honest industry and the benefit of it was reaped by the railway company. It had been said that the settlers were a lot of robbers who pre-empted the land and desired to rob the Crown of the mineral rights. This he most emphatically denied, and claimed they (the settlers) were the ones who were being robbed. The settlers were energetic and honest, and if the men who had spoken so slightingly of them had only been acquainted with them and their trouble they would not have used such expressions towards them. They had repeatedly been promised that their grievance should be investigated, but it has not yet been done. He remembered the election of 1881, and the promises then held out to them, none of which had been carried out. They promised that these lands should not be given to the railway company, but in 1884 the Dominion Government passed an act which gave the railway company all these lands to Seymour Narrows for building a crooked 65 miles of railroad. They did not give it in alternate sections, but gave it away solid. They were not satisfied with giving it the length and width of the railway, but they gave it away for miles on each side, which was contrary to the law of the country. He claimed that such acts as had been perpetrated on the settlers by the ministers at Ottawa would not be tolerated even in a country like Russia. He referred to the fact of the Dominion Government giving a deed of the property to the railway company, although they had admitted that they had not authority to do so. He asked Mr. Gordon why the act was changed, and when questioned again he said it was a mistake.

Mr. Gordon.—I could not say that.

Mr. Patterson—You did say so. I am sorry I did not bring a copy of the Act. I showed it to Sir John Thompson and he said he could not understand it! I can understand it since my mission to Ottawa (cheers). He scored the ministers at Ottawa and classed them among the lowest types of the human race that could possibly be met with, much to the delight of the audience, who repeatedly applauded the speaker. Neither did Mr. Gordon escape his sarcasm. He spoke in glowing terms of Mr. Laurier and the manner in which that gentleman had extended his courtesy to him. He claimed there was a conspiracy at Victoria to throw the settlers out of the great land grab, so that the rich politician could smile and roam about the country. He remembered the time when our member and Mr. Bryden went down to Victoria together over matter.

Mr. Gordon—That is not true.

Mr. Patterson—Did you not go to Victoria on the same train with him?

Mr. Gordon—I was on the train and he was there, but I did not speak to him.

Mr. Patterson—We know all that (cheers).

The speaker then reviewed the account of the matter which has already been published on the subject, and did not fail to condemn those who had voted against Mr. Laurier's motion of censure of the Government. He claimed that a more disgraceful man than Haggart could not be found in the slums of London. (Hear, hear.) Mr. Patterson brought nearly all the correspondence available to bear on the subject and did not lose sight of anything of importance.

Mr. Gordon arose amid loud cheers and said the meeting is rather unexpected to him; he only received notice of it the evening before. There was nothing contained in the notice to show the purport of the invitation except that it was to receive Mr. Patterson's report. It was only that evening that he was made aware by enquiry, that the meeting was to take place at eight o'clock. He could quite understand the difficulties a member has to encounter in order to render a reasonable account of his stewardship, and he could see the difficulties which attended his worthy friend's (Mr. Patterson's) visit to Ottawa. He thought he (the speaker) had been better abused that night than he ever had since he had been a resident of British Columbia. He had not exactly been called a thief, but it came very close to it. The question now before them had been the cause of much anxiety to him, and for years it had puzzled him how to deal with it in the best interests of the people. He went into the lengthy correspondence which has already been published and reviewed the matter from beginning to end and which every newspaper reader is already acquainted with. Mr. Gordon looked upon the cordiality which Mr. Patterson's speech of in referring to the kindness he had received from Mr. Laurier as a political dodge, and said it was clear to him it was done for the purpose of injuring him at the next election. He endeavored to make out that whenever anything of importance was taking place in respect to British Columbia indifference was shown by the leader of the Opposition, but he had many pleasant words for a number of the Opposition who had helped them with certain measure pertaining to the advancement of this country. He claimed Mr. Patterson had not fairly represented his mission to them, and had kept some of the correspondence back, which he had been afraid to produce. However, he produced the letters in question and read them to the meeting.

The arguments were carried out on both sides without the slightest interruption of the audience, and a more orderly meeting was never held in Nanaimo.

Notes From Okanagan Mission.

OKANAGAN MISSION, Oct. 21.—The Okanagan farmer has had a good year; crops of grain, fruit, etc., have been fully up to the average. The grain is all threshed. Some potatoes, roots and luscious apples are still to be garnered.

The Vernon show was a great success. The Mission people nearly all went and came back satisfied with their prizes and with their locality. The prize list shows they secured a good share of prizes. The Earl of Aberdeen made a speech and opened the fair. The same day he and the countess and Lady Marjorie Gordon came by the steamer Okanagan to their Mission home, "Guisachan." They are highly delighted with this valley. This is the first time they have been here, as Lord Aberdeen bought the ranch without seeing it. They attended service at the school house last Sunday, Rev. P. F. Langill officiating. The Earl invited all to attend a service at his residence in the afternoon, and about 50 embraced the opportunity of listening to the Earl's discourse. He has promised to aid liberally in building a new church. The managers, Messrs. Smith and Hon. Coutts Marjoribanks, of Guisachan, will plant 100 acres of fruit in the spring, and a cannery will be built. The Earl and Countess intend holding a social at their residence on 22nd inst. The invitations are now out. They intend leaving for the coast in a few days.

Messrs. Morgan, Morrison and White, who were out prospecting for about six weeks, came home last Saturday. They took out giant powder, etc., and went down 18 feet in a ledge they were at last fall. They found it got better the deeper they went. They brought home some fine specimens from their claim. It is about three days' ride from here towards Kettle River.

Mr. Anderson, a gentleman from Victoria, is here looking up the agricultural resources of the country.

Conspiracy to Save a Murderer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—On the night of Aug. 16, 1890, Samuel Jackson, a trunk manufacturer, was shot and killed at the door of his residence by unknown persons. Subsequently Sidney Bell and Edward Campbell were arrested for the crime and on May 7, last, Bell was convicted of murder in the first degree, Campbell and one Charles Schmidt, who had been arrested for burglary, being the chief witnesses against him. Schmidt alleged that while confined in the county jail Bell had confessed the murder to him. Schmidt was arraigned in the superior court to-day on two charges of burglary and District Attorney Barnes read two lengthy communications from Schmidt wherein in the latter claimed to be innocent of the charges and stated that he pleaded guilty for reasons best known to the district attorney. He charged the district attorney with having prompted him to give testimony against Bell on the promise of release and claimed that Campbell boasted of his wife's influence with Judge Murphy, before whom the case was tried, with the district attorney and with the police officials. Schmidt accused Campbell of using fraudulent means to secure Bell's conviction and his own release, and he declared he had good reasons to believe that Bell never committed the crime for which he is to hang. District Attorney Barnes denounces Schmidt's statements as false and as part of the conspiracy to save Bell's life. He asked leave to file the communications as a part of the court's records, but Judge Trout denied the motion, holding that the letters were scurrilous and irrelevant.

Those Mexican Executions.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The Herald's Washington special says: The report that two American citizens, Juan Bazan, and Jose Angel Vera, were shot by order of Gen. Garcia on the Mexican frontier is discredited here. The State Department officials have received no notice of such occurrence. Word was received last Friday of the trial and execution of two Mexicans for desertion and treason, but there was no intermation in the communication that they were American citizens. The report that Consul Richardson was investigating the alleged shooting by Americans was news to the State Department. No word has been received from him, neither is he acting under instructions from Washington. Minister Romero told me this evening that he did not credit the story; he had heard nothing about it. A few days ago when he heard of the execution of the deserters by Gen. Garcia's orders he wrote at once to have the full circumstances and details. He has not received a reply yet.

English Capital for Puget Sound.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 26.—George N. Sims, of the Lombard Trust Co., of London and New York, says he has $5,000,000 of English capital which he has been instructed to invest in property on Puget Sound, and that he intends to invest much money in Everett and other seaport towns in the belief that the Panama Canal will be completed within a few years. Among the enterprises under consideration, Mr. Sims says, are the running of a line of steamers between Puget Sound and China and Japan, and the laying of a submarine cable between the points named. Mr. Sims will invest considerable money subscribed by English capitalists in real estate, factories and other industries.

CANADIAN NOTES.

Recent Events Reported From the Eastern Provinces.

John Rorke was killed at North Toronto by a derrick getting out of order.

John T. Udy, a Hamilton photographer, fell from a tree, sustaining probably fatal injuries.

John Robinson, Williamsburg township, was killed in a scuffle with James Shaver. An inquest will be held.

Gold has been found in the bed of Beaver creek between Plevna, Addington county, and Lavant, Lanark county.

Mat R. Dawson, aged 32, formerly of Woodstock, has been accidently drowned at Laramie City, Wyoming Territory.

Eli Burt, of Newfoundland, was killed in the tower mine at East Templeton by the premature explosion of a blast.

Ebenezer Rockward, employed on the Brockville, Westport & Sault Ste. Marie railway, fell from a train and was killed.

Mr. Perley, late Chief Engineer of the Public Works Department, still remains in a serious condition. The latest bulletin states that there is no change for the better.

Herbert, of Montreal, was chosen president of the wholesale grocers' guild at a recent meeting in London, Ince, of Toronto, retiring after seven years' service.

At Owen Sound Captain Donnelly of the ship Kincardine was in the hold of his vessel when a load of cord-wood was dumped down upon him without warning. He was killed instantly.

Prof. Goldwin Smith has resigned the presidency of the associated charities of Toronto. Among other reasons for his retirement is a desire to devote the remainder of his days to literary work.

Michael Connors, an old and respected Brockville cabman, was found dead in the water off the wharf there. An ugly gash in the forehead indicated a fall and accidental death. He was a sober industrious citizen and leaves a wife and six children.

In the Criminal Court at Quebec on Saturday an application was made to have the case of Connolly against McGreevy and Murphy brought up in appeal. Judge Bosse said he couldn't grant the application unless the defendants appear in court. A delay was granted until November 2nd, when the two defendants will put in an appearance.

La Patrie says that having no chance to get satisfaction from the Governor-General, Premier Mercier should denounce before the Imperial Government the unconstitutional acts of the alleged representative of the Crown at Quebec, and that it would be wise to do this before Mr. Augers adds some new misdeeds to those that he has already perpetrated.

Mr. Pacaud produced before the Royal Commission at Quebec on Saturday a letter he received from Premier Mercier while the latter was in Paris that $5000 should be sent to him. Mr. Pacaud did not care about reading the whole of the letter and handed it to the judges, who after taking note of its contents, stated that as the letter was a private one they could not authorize the reading of the whole of it, and then read a portion of the letter.

John Galbraith, of St. Mary's, Ont., went away to Sitka, Alaska, some years ago, contracted consumption, and his case became hopeless. He felt that his end was coming and he wished to return home to die. After the long journey across the continent he arrived at Toronto a week ago on Saturday morning. His condition had been rapidly growing worse, and the ambulance was sent for to remove him from the train. When P. C. Geddes arrived at the Union station with the ambulance he found Galbraith sitting up in his seat in the car dead. The body was sent to an undertaker's and then forwarded to St. Mary's.

A serious collision occurred on the C. P. R. at Warren, near North Bay, a week ago Saturday, between a freight and work train. Two men were killed, and a third it is feared was fatally injured, and five others were more or less badly wounded. Three cars were completely demolished and eleven others badly broken up. The coroner's jury severely censured the company for not seeing that the rules were properly carried out. A work train with ten boarding cars and about 150 men engaged, known as the "steel gang," under William Evans, were engaged in laying a new steel rail of 74 pounds weight in place of the 56 pound rail now down from Sudbury to North Bay. About 1 a.m. Conductor Simmons, of the rail train, got out and kicked the west semaphore up and commenced shunting his train on the main line. There being a dense fog at this time, the semaphore could not be seen, and thinking it had worked as usual, the train was left standing there while the men took breakfast. While all hands were seated at the table, about 6:30, along thundered a through freight, sailing past the semaphore and entered the yard at the rate of six or eight miles an hour, but before everybody had time to heed the warning cry to jump, dashed into the work train. On investigation it was found that only two were killed out of the gang, while several were injured more or less. Following is the list: Killed—Opilion Thibeault, of North Bay, aged 23; Joseph Vandette, of Verner, aged 19 years. Wounded—Joseph Lamothe, internally; Isadore Royer, arm broken in two places; Jeon Leblanc. Alphonse Hamell and Conductor Daley slightly injured.

Buying the Chicago Times.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Carter Harrison is ambitious to be an editor, and now he has found a way. Soon after his defeat for the mayoralty last spring negotiations were opened with the Chicago Times Company for the purchase of the Times, and they have so far advanced that it is reported Mr. Harrison will next week assume editorial control of that paper. The new editor was found at his residence today. He said:—"Within a week I shall have control of the Times. Its future policy will be for good government and for Democracy. The Times will have no friends to serve, no enemies to punish, no hobbies to ride, no axes to grind. It will give all the news, while excluding everything that is vulgar and indecent.

WRECK ON THE C. P. R.

Three Men Killed by a Collision Between Two Freight Trains.

On Tuesday evening last a bad smash-up occurred on the Canadian Pacific between Kemnay and Brandon, caused by one freight train crashing into the caboose and some cars of another. While one train, in charge of Conductor Chester, was pulling in some cars on a switch the second train came tearing along at 35 miles an hour and dashed into that portion of the first train which was quietly resting on the main line. Conductor Chester ran up the main line to signal the coming train, but it appears that Rogers, who was pulling the second train, although he had his engine reversed, could not hold her back coming down grade. He and his fireman, Holmer, jumped a few minutes before the collison. In the caboose at the rear end of the first train were the following passengers: W. Joll, D. Bunting, James Bell, W. McLennan, C. R. Fessenger and James Bennett. All, on noticing the engine some few rods off, rushed for the door to escape. McLennan, Bennett and Fessenden succeeded in jumping free of the wreck, but Bunting was caught. However, he was able to crawl from the wreck badly burned and with the loss of a leg. Joll was killed outright, having been taken from the wreck shortly afterwards badly mangled. Bell was also supposed to be instantly killed, but his body was not found for some time afterwards. Bunting died on Saturday morning.

D. Bunting was a young unmarried man about 25 years old, and came from Rosenfelt, Man. He was until lately in the employ of the Lake of the Woods Milling company doing carpentering work. Joll was a carpenter also. He was a young man, unmarried, and came from Durham county, Ont. James Bell was a member of the firm of Bell Bros., the well-known carpenters of Winnipeg. The deceased was a most promising young man, who was rapidly becoming one of the city's leading business men. He was just returning to Winnipeg from Griswold, where he was attending to some business. Joll and Bunting were returning from Kemnay, where they had just completed erecting the Presbyterian church there.

AN INLAND TRAGEDY.

Supposed Murder of a Chinaman at Perry Creek, East Kootenay.

A correspondent at Fort Steele, East Kootenay, writes:—About ten days ago a Chinaman named Yung Fan Tong left Wild Horse Creek, to collect some money at Perry Creek and after remaining one day collecting started on his way back to Wild Horse Creek. Three days afterwards a Chinaman coming along the trail found his horse tied up to a tree, but no signs of the missing Chinaman. A party of Chinese started out to hunt him up, but after searching in the neighborhood for a few days, gave up the search as useless. They then applied to Col. Baker, M. P. P., J.P., for the assistance of the local officer here to continue the search, who, together with Mr. Phillipps, J. P., Indian Instructor, and Mr. Thomas Fenwick, a special officer noted for his energy and zeal, went to make the necessary search. Great anxiety is felt as to the fate of the unfortunate man, and it is to be hoped that the mystery will be cleared up shortly. Various rumors as to his fate are afloat.

MAINLAND MATTERS.

Items of Interest Taken from the Inland Papers---Mining Notes.

[From the Kamloops Sentinel.]

This is said to be how the Calgary sports "got left": They went to Vernon from Enderby with the scheme of "putting up a job" on the Vernon "boys," taking the horse Thankful and hiring the colored jockey for $50 to "pull" the race. Their plan was to get a Siwash horse to run against Thankful and put all their money on the Siwash. The Vernon "boys" got wind of it and went two better with the darkey, betting all their money on Thankful. The jockey proved true, and the Calgary men were relieved of their surplus cash—about $500.

The following notes are from the Barkersville correspondent:

Considerable work is yet being done on Williams Creek and its tributaries, but owing to the light fall of snow last winter and a lack of water this year in consequence, the output of gold will not be up to the average.

Wintrep Bros. on Walker's Gulch, are opening out a hydraulic claim, but have not taken out money as yet.

The Black Jack Hydraulic Co. have cut through an old channel. Their ground has not paid as well as usual this year. Boyce & Taylor are looking for the lead coming out of the hill that has fed Bradley Richardson's claim, and have got good prospects.

John McLean is at work on the old Richfield townsite with some success.

On Stone Gulch, L. Newton has been working his claim for years, employing eight to ten men steadily, with some success. The prospects are good, and he says he will have all the money he wants out of it.

Above this claim John Butts has opened ground, and reports good prospects. He has secured pay already.

On Conkling's Gulch, Ferguson, McDermot & Coats are running a tunnel.

On the same gulch the Cora Co. are sinking a second shaft, and have had some encouraging prospects.

The Forest Rose Co. is said to have the best claim in this part of the country. It is situated on a branch of the creek just below the town. It has paid an annual dividend regularly, and is looking better than ever. This is a hydraulic claim and they have plenty of water.

On McCallum Creek, above Richfield, Chinamen are taking out gold regularly. The Bradley, Nicholson and Eye-opener claims are being hydraulicked by Chinamen, who are doing well.

Lowhee creek, which paid well in early days, continues to yield heavy gold. It is being hydraulicked with considerable success. Two years ago a nugget worth $600 was taken out of this creek.

Mosquito creek is about six miles from Barkerville. It was struck in 1867 and since that time has yielded over four millions in gold. The Alabama Company and Flynn Bros. are hydraulicking on the creek at present, and are taking out good pay right along. They had not finished work for the season when I visited their ground, but are certain of good returns.

Mr. John R. Hull, of Hull Bros. & Co., returned this week from a trip of five weeks into East and Upper Kootenay. He ascended the Upper Columbia as far as Fort Steele and to the range of Col. Baker. He found the stock in that district to be in prime condition, by reason of the good feed on the ranges, and that the ranchers there are a prosperous class of settlers. Mr. Hull purchased 200 head of prime cattle from different ranges, and drove them over the trail 200 miles to the railway at Golden, and were from there distributed to the various butchering houses of the firm in the mountain district—Golden, Donald, Revelstoke and Kamloops—three cars of the stock having already been brought to this market. This was Mr. Hull's first trip into the East Kootenay district, and finding it so good an opening for business it will not likely be his last. But the trail over which the cattle have to be driven to Golden is very bad, and needs attention and improvement by the Government.

[From the Nelson Miner.]

The boys are straggling in from the Slocan strike. Some of them swear that it is the biggest thing in the Kootenay Lake country; others, again, say it is no great shakes after all. Probably luck in getting on to good ground has something to do with the opinions expressed.

The Idaho has resumed business. She brought in a cargo of passengers from Nelson on Thursday.

There is a rumor current in Ainsworth that J. C. Rykert has resigned the office of Collector of Customs at the boundary line.

Hot Springs district does not propose to let the Slocan Lake excitement get away with all the baggage. On Wednesday a strike was made in the Number One that eclipses anything made before in that mine. The body of ore is four feet wide, and assays all the way from $200 to $400 to the ton.

A party of Canadian Pacific engineers will start on the 1st of November for the new mining district on Slocan Lake, with a view of finding the most practicable route to build a wagon road and to size the country up for a future railroad.

A foot of snow fell on Toad mountain on Thursday night, and now the snow is well down on the mountain sides along the outlet.

The people of the lake country are beginning to feel anxious as regards mail service for the winter. If Post-office Inspector Fletcher has made any arrangements, he keeps them to himself. But more probably the Inspector has forgotten all about this section of the country; in that case, this short paragraph will remind him that the people down here are yet alive and kicking.

[From the Golden Era.]

A new siding is being put in by the C.P.R. This town is evidently of considerable importance to the company, as the money spent this summer shows.

A test was made of the water works system of the smelter on Tuesday last. It was thoroughly satisfactory, a stream being thrown completely over the building.

There are four or five packs of coyotes around the town just now. They hold a cheerful conversation together every night, much to the discomfort of the citizens.

The Earl and Countess of Aberdeen, with their daughter Lady Marjorie Gordon, arrived at their ranch at Okanagan Mission on Wednesday evening.

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents.

Her Face Her Fortune,

Is commonly said of famous beauties. She who uses with artistic taste Wisdom's Famous Robertine has fortune in the possessing of a complexion to which nothing but the blush of the rose or the freshness of the lily can be compared. This preparation is just what it is claimed to be—the most delightful toilet article and only perfect beautifier known. Read the testimonials from famous artists, celebrated chemists and eminent physicians. D. E. Campbell, gent.

A QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO

There settled in Baker county, Oregon, near what is now Baker City, a man who has since become identified with the resources and development of that country. This man is no other than Mr. John Stewart, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens in the county. In a recent letter he says: "I had been suffering from pains in my back and general kidney complaint for some time, and had used many remedies without any but temporary relief. The pains in my back had become so severe that I was prevented from attending to my work and could not move about without the use of a cane. Hearing through a friend, of the wonderful cures effected by Oregon Kidney Tea, I was induced to try a box, and from that very first dose I found instant relief, and before using half the contents of the box the pains in my back entirely disappeared. I have every faith in the virtues of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and can conscientiously recommend it to my friends. I would not be without it for anything."

Oregon Kidney Tea cures backache, incontinence of urine, brick dust sediment, burning or painful sensation while urinating, and all affections of the kidney or urinary organs of either sex.

THE CABINET TROUBLES.

Premier Abbott evidently finds it an almost impossible achievement to reconstruct his cabinet, even with the assistance of Mr. John Joseph Hawkins, of whom the Colonist so strongly disapproves. It is freely stated, with every appearance of truth, that among the Conservative leaders there is a strong feeling in favor of Mr. Abbott giving way to a younger and stronger man, whose energies would not be so severely taxed. There is also a feeling that the present Premier's connection with the Pacific Scandal and his subsequent relations with the C.P.R. Co. are not calculated to secure him the confidence of the public. Among the anti-Abbottites is mentioned J. C. Patterson, ex-M.P., the president of the Conservative Association for Ontario. It is well known that Mr. Patterson strongly favors the entrance into the Cabinet of W. R. Meredith, the leader of the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature, and a strong section of the party would be glad to see Mr. Meredith take the Premiership. This booming of Meredith is a severe reflection on the present Conservative members from Ontario, who may feel themselves at liberty to object to it. There is every prospect that there will be a bad rupture in the party. Regarding the Quebec section of the party, Mr. Tarte, who lately had an interview with Chapleau, said in his paper, Le Canadien: "It is evident that there are eels under the rocks in the sea of federal politics these times and nothing would be so easy as to suppose a complete rupture between large groups of the Conservative party. Heretofore discipline exercised a strong influence on the party which has traditions and ideas of government which are unquestionably opposed to those of the Liberal party. Certain changes in the personnel of the lower Canadian section would strengthen the Cabinet, but there is abundance of intrigue."

THE GOVERNMENT AND THE BOODLERS.

The Mail's Montreal correspondent says that the mode of procedure adopted by the Government in the case of Senecal, ex-Superintendent of the Printing Bureau, has caused considerable surprise there, as it was expected that a criminal prosecution would be instituted, if any action was taken. Instead of this the Government is trying to make Senecal disgorge by means of a civil action. There is a general feeling, the correspondent adds, that the move is only a feint on the part of the Government, and that the action will not result in anything.

The claim put in against Senecal by Sir John Thompson on behalf of the Government covers moneys received from Miller & Richards, of Edinburgh, $6000, on purchases amounting to $90,000; from Barber, Ellis & Co., Toronto, $2000 on purchases of $20,000; from Blackhall, Toronto, $2000 on purchases of $19,000; from Polson Iron Works Co., Toronto, $540 on purchase of $7900; from Launcelot Montgomery, Montreal, $27 on $1200; from Dominion Type Foundry Co., Montreal, $1800 on $18,000; from Buntin, Reid & Co., Montreal, $200 on about $3000; from Odillon, Beauchemin, Montreal, $100 on $600. The whole sum of Senecal's commissions amounts to $14,317. The declaration says that by reason of said flagitious and illegal conduct of the defendant, the Government of Canada, the plaintiff, suffered great and serious loss and damage to the extent of $14,317, which defendant is obliged to reimburse and return to the plaintiff.

Senecal, it appears, is ready for the fray. In a recent interview he said: "I certainly intend opposing the action. The papers were served on me last week, but I have not yet chosen a lawyer. I intend doing so, however. I owe the Government nothing, and I do not see why I should be sued and singled out in preference to any of the others. If I received any moneys it was from parties who were free to give it, and the Government did not lose a cent by it. Of course, if the case comes up I shall have witnesses to produce."

It is difficult to see how the Government is going to establish its case and secure the surrender of the money. Chapleau has stoutly maintained that nothing was lost by the country on account of the boodling operations in his department; that only those who paid the commissions were defrauded. Either Chapleau or the Minister of Justice must be laboring under a mistake. We are sadly afraid that the Government's talk about vigorous measures against the boodlers is a good deal of a sham, and that there will be no tangible result. Parliamentary whitewashings and empty threats do not give a good indication that real reforms are to be expected from the Tory Ministry.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

One of the most remarkable features of the politics of our day is Mr. Chapleau's tender consideration for the feelings of Sir Hector Langevin. When asked lately if he was going to take office as Minister of Public Works, the Secretary of State replied: "No, such a proceeding on my part is out of the question. Certain feelings of delicacy in regard to Sir Hector would prevent me doing so. The reports that I drove him from public life are unfounded. If I assume his place, people might see in it a triumph which has no existence."

WOODEN ODDITIES.

TO THE EDITOR:—Is it true that a by-law was passed in the city council prohibiting all owners of real estate within the fire limits from adding any more wood to their buildings? If so, how is it that a great big sign is allowed to be put up over those small wooden shacks on Yates street, between Douglas and Broad streets? The appearance of the roofs of these old shacks were certainly not pleasing to visitors to this city, especially firemen. I remember some time ago that Mr. Salmon, who rented the store on the corner of Yates and Government streets, before the present building was built, was fined, or at least summoned, for allowing a wooden partition to be erected in the said store for a barber shop. We Britishers talk of fair play to Americans. Then why not do justice to our own countrymen? If this wooden sign is a contravention of the by-law prohibiting wooden additions within the fire limits, it would be good drill for our noble firemen to pull it down.

INSURANCE.

THE CAR TRACKS.

TO THE EDITOR.—At last week's meeting of the City Council a petition was read from the residents of Pandora street, complaining of the way in which the street car rails were being laid on that street. Their grievance was attended to by the city surveyor who moved the track out two feet further from the sidewalk, making it sixteen feet from the fence. This satisfied the people of the lower Pandora street who only have a 10-foot sidewalk, and therefore have six feet between the tramway company's rails and the sidewalk. But the residents of upper Pandora street where there is a 12-foot sidewalk, were not satisfied as the city surveyor's decision only gives them four feet between the sidewalk and the track. This hardly gives them room for their carriages between the sidewalk and the track, so they complained to the city surveyor, and an alderman, also a director of the street car company. They admitted that there would not be room enough between the street car track and the sidewalk, but promised to have it changed by cutting two feet off the sidewalk between Quadra and Cook street. The sidewalk that they thus intend to change was only put down a short time ago and is in good condition. In order to make it good and wide they cut down several handsome shade trees along the street. The question asked is "Why cannot the tramway rails be placed two feet further out in the road and save the city the expense of spoiling a sidewalk which cost them so much to build?" The officials who were seen say it would make a difference to place the rails further out in the street, but it is hard to see where that difference lies, unless it is that it would cost a little more to excavate in the middle of the street where the macadam is harder than it is on the side of the road. If the city surveyor makes many more blunders the Pandora street extension of the street car system will cost the city more than it is costing the street car company.

Clarke, Mrs. McLean, Miss Upton, C. Spratt, S. Gray, S. Pugsley, Mrs. D. W. Higgins, Mrs. W. S. gore, Thos. Crichton and wife, Geo. Adams, E. Steven, Chas. Lane, R. F. Cochrane, wife and child, Miss N. Abbott, J. Colling and wife and E. Soulange.

Changing Places.

The steamer City of Seattle, looking bright and clean after her two days' stay in the Esquimalt dry dock, came out this morning and proceeded to Port Townsend, where she relieved the Olympian, that has been running in her place on the Whatcom route. The Olympian will come over this evening, taking the City of Kingston's run for several days, the latter boat going into the dock for repairs. The large propeller cast by the Albion Iron Works for her will be put on, and painters will also be set to work cleaning and painting her.

Nothing Proved Against Him.

A special committee meeting was held this morning to inquire into certain alleged irregularities on the part of Gilbert W. Clayton-East, acting city clerk. There were present his worship the Mayor, Aldermen Holland, Renout, Munn, Hunter, Robertson and Smith. They took up the question of addressing and mailing the copies of the North Western Review, the work in connection with which was done by Mr. Campbell, who denied that he divided the profit with East. The amount charged for it was $35, which he received. There was nothing, therefore, proved against East, and he was exonerated. The witnesses examined were Campbell, Walby, East and Humphries.

A Decided Improvement.

Mr. Teague is asking for tenders for the construction of roads and sidewalks leading to the Jubilee Hospital from the main road.

From the Outer Dock.

The steamer City of Seattle will leave the outer dock at 8:30 this evening taking the City of Kingston's passengers over. The Olympian will take the run to-morrow.

Died in California.

Mr. James Black Preston, who travelled through Cariboo in early days, and lived in Victoria from 1883 until 1886, died in Santa Clara, California, on the 18th inst. The deceased was a native of Canada, aged 54 years, and leaves a widow and six children to mourn his loss. He removed from Victoria in 1886 to engage in orange cultivation in California, in which he was very successful. The San Jose Mercury, speaking of the death of Mr. Preston, says: "It is with the deepest regret that we have to chronicle the death of one of the most prominent and respected citizens of Santa Clara, Mr. J. B. Preston."

Careless Shooters

Three young men with a rifle came within an ace of causing a serious accident yesterday morning through downright carelessness. Mr. L. H. Solley and his little boy were walking along the Dallas Road about 11 o'clock when they heard a shot and almost felt the wind from a bullet that went whistling past them and lodged in a house on the opposite side of the road. Mr. Solley ran to the beach where the shot came from and there found three men with a rifle. They at first denied having fired the shot, but upon Mr. Solley threatening to put the case in the hands of the police, one of them acknowledged having fired the rifle and also gave his name. It was bad enough to be shooting inside the city limits let alone firing right across a road where men, women and children are walking and riding at all times.

The Veteran Prospector.

Major Downie, the veteran prospector, returned on Saturday evening from a trip to his old camps in California. He visited Downieville, Sierra County, named after him, and there saw 202 ozs. of solid gold taken out of a claim that he worked over 50 years ago. The Major says he took some big lumps out of the old claim, but that one beats them all. He will spend the winter in Victoria, soliciting orders for a new book, "The Prodigal Son." He will commence next year to write his reminiscences of mining in California and British Columbia, which will embrace events extending over half a century. The Californian book will be written first, and published in a separate volume. Major Downie intends to write more about the doings in the cabin and around the camp fire than other writers have done, which combined with his long experience in mining will make the book the most interesting and instructive ever published.

The Crofter on Top.

Yesterday afternoon the steamers Islander and Empress of India left Vancouver almost together. The local boat hauled off from the wharf and headed out for the Gulf slightly in advance of the big ocean liner, but at the Narrows both were about evenly started. The Empress tried to get a lead, but the Islander more than held her own and beat the big mail boat by a half hour in the run to Victoria. The Islander, beside beating the large steamer, broke the record between Vancouver and Victoria, having covered the distance, from wharf to wharf in four hours and twenty minutes, making the best speed ever developed by a steamer on that run. No particular pains was taken to make the run either, and no racing was done. The engines were simply "let out" a notch. If pressed it is said the Islander can do the trip in four hours. Engineer Brownlie is justly proud of the machinery under his charge.

B. C. Marine Engineers' Association

Since the B.C. Marine Engineers' Association was first organized, less than two years ago, it has grown steadily. Among its members are a number of engineers who are employed in steamers having headquarters at Vancouver, and these gentlemen have determined to form a branch of the association at that port. With this end in view, a meeting was held on Friday at Sunnyside Hotel, Vancouver, when there were twelve certificate engineers present. The object of the meeting was to form a branch of the B. C. Marine Engineers' Association. This was successfully accomplished, R. C. Hawes being elected president and Sam Hollander secretary pro tem. A room has been taken and in this a record will be kept of all the certificate engineers out of employment, so that the formation of this association will be of great benefit to the employers as well as to the members. The association has since its inception been met by steamer owners in the proper spirit, and much benefit has been derived both to them and members by reason of the establishment of such an association.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

"BEIN' ONLY A NEW CHUM"

He Didn't Know it Was Unlawful to Give Indians Whiskey.

A man named Seymour was before his honor the police magistrate this morning on a double charge. One was for supplying liquor to an Indian woman named Lucy. Seymour pleaded guilty, but stated in extenuation of his fault that he was "a new chum in this country, and didn't know it was wrong to give Indians whiskey or liquors of any kind." He said the woman came to him looking miserable and frozen up, and in getting the liquor for her he was prompted by purely charitable and brotherly motives. He promised faithfully never to offend again. The magistrate deferred sentence till to-morrow.

The other charge was one of larceny, and it was in defence of this that Seymour proved himself a good average amateur lawyer. It is a case of many complications, arising out of a Saturday night soak on the part of the prosecutor, T. J. Powers; the watch was found in the possession of another man, who says Seymour gave it to him to keep.

Powers couldn't remember who took the watch, Seymour denied he did, and all the witnesses agreed to disagree. The case was remanded till to-morrow.

WHARF AND WAVE.

Jottings of Interest to Marine Men Concisely Compiled.

The steamer Danube is to go in the dry dock upon her arrival from the north.

The steamer City of Seattle came out of the Esquimalt dry dock yesterday, after having been overhauled by the A. I. W. Co.

A new steamer is being built at Olympia for the Sound trade. She is to make 22 knots per hour and is to be named the Flyer.

The first of the three new steamers for the Union Steamship Co. of Vancouver, has been launched and named the Comox. She is a steel boat, built in Scotland and sent out to Vancouver in sections and put together there. The Vancouver papers claim that the Comox is the first steel steamer built north of San Francisco. The first one has not yet been built.

Cattle and Gold

Mr. J. F. Allison, the well-known stockman of Princeton, is in Victoria for a few days on business. Mr. Allison says that matters in his district are going well. Stock this year has thriven splendidly, and many hundreds of fat beeves have been driven to the coast markets, after putting on lots of fat in the bunch grass ranges. A large herd will be wintered and preparations have been made to do this in a first-class way, so that no loss will be caused by exposure. Quite a deal of prospecting is being done and Mr. Allison says the neighborhood near Princeton may yet be widely known through its mines.

Tried for Perjury.

Supt. F. Hussey of the provincial police returned last evening from an official trip to the Mainland. The principal business for which he went away was to attend the trial of an Indian named Quilt for perjury, at Clinton. Quilt, it seems, was the principal witness at the trial of Nemiah. Some years ago Quilt made through an interpreter, a statement to Judge Harrison with the regard to the Nemiah case, but his evidence at the trial differed in several material points and he was accordingly committed for perjury. Mr. Hussey entered a plea of nolle prosequi, and Quilt was discharged.

Board of Trade Building.

The time for submitting plans for the proposed building of the Board of Trade expired to-day. There are in all eleven plans in Mr. Elworthy's charge awaiting the decision of the committee. The competing architects, who have taken names for the occasion display considerable ability and artistic taste, and if any one of the proposed buildings be taken up it will be a credit to Victoria. Although some of them are very elaborate, they are all designed with a view to a building that will be at once substantial, commodious and revenue producing.

Charged With Shirt Stealing.

This afternoon Sergt. Walker arrested a man in the Colonial Hotel on a charge of stealing a shirt. When the culprit was taken to the cells and searched it was found that the shirt he wore answered the description of the one which had been stolen. The complainant is ready to swear it is the same shirt, and to-morrow the prisoner will be asked to explain the similarity.

Neatly Stopped.

ELECTRICITY'S RIVAL.

Compressed Air as a Motive-Power—Method of Using It in Paris.

Progress in the development of electricity has been so rapid during the last few years that the public has come to regard it as the motive power of the future, but it appears that electricity is to have a lively rival in the shape of compressed air. Robert Gillham, an engineer of New York, has recently returned from an extended sojourn in Paris, where he made a thorough study of the compressed-air system of the metropolis. The new dynamic agent, according to his report, has within an incredibly short time fairly revolutionized many lines of industry at the gay French capital. It is at this time propelling surface cars with unequaled ease, furnishing motive power for elevators and a multiplicity of uses, manufacturing ice and preserving meats of all kinds. The air is compressed at a large central station and conducted through mains in the streets to all parts of the city as are water and gas.

The method of using the compressed air in engines as described by the engineer is interesting. The air is admitted from the main through a pressure reduced valve by means of which the pressure can be adjusted to any number of atmospheres desired. From the reduction valve the air is conducted to a small coke radiating devise in the shape of a hollow cylinder having vertical divisions where the air is heated. The coke is burned in the central space and the air passes up and down the other vertical divisions in succession until it has reached a high temperature. The air is then conducted to the engine, where it operates exactly as steam. Once in the engine it is made to do all sorts of labor, not the least of which is the generation of electricity for lighting and other purposes.

One fact of importance noted by Mr. Gillnam on his visit was the preparation Par's engineers are making by means of compressed air, with a view to averting the terrors of another siege such as was experienced in 1871. Refrigerator stations can, in an emergency, be made to contain enough food to last Paris for over a year. Mr. Gillnam thinks that both the smoke and steam nuisances will be obliterated by the encroachment of the compressed-air system in every line of dynamic application.

EDISON AT WORK.

New Discoveries Applicable to Railway and Street Car Lines.

Thomas A. Edison, the electrical wizard, has completed two inventions before the wonderful and far-reaching results of which other recent discoveries are comparitively insignificent. One is the practical application of electricity to great railroad lines, by which speed far beyond anything achieved by steam may be attained, and the other the application of electricity to the propulsion of street-cars without the use of dangerous, unsightly and inconvenient overhead construction. For two years Mr. Edison has been engaged on experiments in this direction. He has met with almost insuperable difficulties, but he has stuck to his work with that dogged pertinacity for which he is famous, and at last he has been successful.

The general principle of the street car invention is that the electric current passed down through one line of rails is picked up by the car, passed through the motor beneath it, and goes out on the other side and returns through the other line of rails to the central power station. At the first thought the bare idea of this is paradoxical. The question will naturally occur why the electric current does not dissipate itself in the ground. To this no positive reason can be assigned except the bare statement that it does not. In general terms the effect is accomplished by having the current one of low voltage, or pressure. It is a well settled principle of electrical research that the higher the voltage the greater must be the insulation, and that the lower the voltage can be brought the less need of insulation. Mr. Edison's experiments have all been in this direction—that is to say, in the endeavor to construct a motor sufficiently powerful to do the work in which the voltage was reduced to so low a point that the natural tendency of the electric current to fly off to the ground and be dissipated would be overcome, and the passage through the motor to the opposite rail would be easier for the current than to pass through the ground to the central station. The plan of having a central rail for the return current was experimented on for a long time, but when the motor had been perfected so that it would work efficiently, Mr. Edison found that he could dispense with the central rail and return the current directly to the station through the opposite rail.

The experiments were conducted at the great laboratory in West Orange. Here an experimental track nearly a quarter of a mile long was constructed through the laboratory yard down to the yard of the Edison Phonograph works. In its length it presented all the varied kinds of difficulties that actual use would encounter. A part of it was laid on a heavy grade of nearly 300 feet to the mile, there are several sharp curves in the road and portion of it runs through a sunken spot where the track could be flooded with water or covered with mud. In this way all the varying conditions of actual use were proved.

The experiments have been fully completed and the invention passes out of the first experimental stage into the second stage, its adaption to practical work. The voltage of the current employed will be, as has been said, very low, less than 100, while the average voltage of the overhead trolley system is in excess of 500. The most remarkable feature of the invention is in the "pick-ups" that take the current from one line of rails. A novel and ingenious mechanism has been so arranged that it will work with perfect certainty and effect through six inches of mud or slush or water.

Mr. Edison's other discovery is to obviate the difficulty met in the attainment of high speed on the ordinary steam railways, which is the interference of steam. The injection and exhaust of the steam into and from the cylinders is so rapid in its alteration that beyond a certain limit it is impossible to work, and this is an inherent defect in all steam propulsion because of the necessity of the conversion of reciprocating motion into rotary motion. In the new electric motor this difficulty vanishes, and the limit of speed is only that of the endurance of the machinery and the strength of the tracks. With this invention of Mr. Edison a speed of 100 miles or more an hour will be more easily attainable than the ordinary speed of fifty or sixty miles an hour. This is also in the hands of the Edison General Electric Company, and negotiations are now in progress for the application of the system to one of the long lines of railway.

The Nineteenth Century.

Though Mr. Gladstone is now in the midst of an active political campaign, he has found time to prepare a paper on "Ancient Beliefs in a Future State," which appears in the "Nineteenth Century" for October, published under arrangements with the English publishers by the Leonard Scott Publication Co. In the same number Sir Charles Tupper, High Commissioner for Canada, argues for imperial federation in a paper entitled "Federating the Empire; a Colonial Plan." Prof. Goldwin Smith has a lengthy, partly historical, partly argumentative article on "Disestablishment." Miss Agnes Lambert writes pleasantly of "The Private Life of Sir Thomas More," presenting a quaint picture of mediæval life in England. Prof. Rhys discusses "Welsh Fairies" and their ethnographic relations in a popular manner, and gathers some very curious facts in his article. Edwin Wakefield has an interesting essay entitled "The Wisdom of Gumbo," under which heading he gives many examples of the proverbs and sayings of the French negroes of Louisiana and the West Indies. The proverbs are given in the native dialect, in French and in English, and the whole forms a valuable contribution to folk literature. W. H. Wilkins discusses "Immigration in the United States," reviewing its past and pointing out its lessons to the English people. It is a well-conducted study of a problem which is now one of the most difficult the American people have to deal with. Mrs. E. Lynn Linton continues her remarkable series of papers on working-women, devoting her attention this month to "The Wild women as social Insurgents." The recent visits of the French fleet to Russia and England furnish a text to the Rt. Hon. G. Shaw Lefevre for a valuable paper on the "Naval Policy of France," in which he reviews French naval history past and present and points out its opportunities and possibilities for the future. Gen. Sir John Adye writes on "The Military Forces of the Crown," and replies to some strictures of recent military critics on the official management of the British army. Miss Cornelia Sorabji contributes some "Stray Thoughts of an Indian Girl," chiefly on marriage and the position of women in India, which will appeal strongly to the sympathies of Western minds, and the Hon. Emily Lawless tells an old Irish legend in modern prose under the title of "A Bardic Chronicle." Every taste may well be satisfied with this great Review, which ably retains its place at the head of the periodical literature of the world.

Great excitement was manifested at Port Moody while awaiting reports from the great boat race in California. Some of the most prominent sports got slightly wounded (financially), but fortunately their injuries are not serious, and if they only indulge in the following prescription, viz: "Bet high on Stephenson against Hanlan in their coming race at Shawnigan Lake," I am satisfied they will come around O.K.

The result of the Hanlan-McLean race at Vancouver has filled the residents of the Port with disgust, and more than one of our local oarsmen are seriously contemplating the advisability of challenging McLean for a three mile go on the placid waters of the Inlet.

Mr. John Handcock (who is generally considered to be the best all-round man in a boat in the vicinity), will likely give the Fraser champion an opportunity to display his staying qualities to an admiring public, if he can effect an arrangement with Mr. McLean for a race on these waters. "Go in, John," says I, "you don't require 100 yards start."—Port Moody correspondence.

BUGS ON THE TRACK.

They Swarm in a Quarry and Stop a Locomotive.

Thousands of the Insects Crushed Beneath the Iron Wheels with Reports Resembling Exploding Torpedoes.

Southeast of Brighton Corners on the Lackawanna railroad are extensive limestone quarries which have been in operation for many years and have penetrated deeply into the rock, says a Syracuse correspondent of the New York Tribune. Through the cut thus made and into the quarries a branch track has been laid from the Lackawanna road for the hauling of the hewn stone. Night work being necessary a large part of the time, an arc light has been placed high over the track of the darkest part of the cut. Several cars were loaded for shipment and left on the switch pending the observance of Memorial day. At night, in preparation for drawing the cars out, the electric light was put in and an engine with the necessary crew left the city for the quarries. What was the surprise of all hands upon reaching the scene of operations to find the track beneath the electric light completely thronged with strange insects of great size, some of them lying perfectly still in bunches and some of them playing a sort of leap-frog game. They covered a space of not less than sixty feet along the tracks, though toward either boundary of the occupied territory they grew fewer, as the rays of light began to grow dimmer. These pickets, or skirmishers, were one and all of a most lively disposition, and ran over the ground with that lightninglike rapidity which characterized the movements of the electric light bugs that made their appearance all over the country soon after the system of electric lighting became of general adoption in cities.

The locomotive continued on its way, and as the drivers rolled over the insects the insects died with a crackling sound like the successive explosions of toy torpedoes. But this was at the beginning of the swarm. As the iron monster plowed its way along the bugs became more numerous and the crackling grew to a monotonous din, as though some firecracker storehouse had been touched off in a hundred places, until in the thick of the swarm the engine was brought to a stop, the drivers refusing to catch on the now slippery rails, greased by the crushed and slaughtered bugs. An examination of the insects showed a resemblance to the electric-light bug, though they are somewhat larger than those bugs, the outer shell of the back being about the size and shape of half a shanghai-egg shell. It was this turtle-like armor with which the insects are equipped that made the crackling sound as the wheels passed over them. The shell is black and partakes of the nature of stone, having a slatey structure and being brittle. This shell set the more thoughtful people to thinking and observing, and after a time search along the sides of the cut revealed innumerable small holes in the rock, which seemed to have been bored into it by some agency not that of man, and in them were traces of a peculiar ovula some hatched and some apparently blighted. An erudite recluse whose abode is in the neighborhood of the quarries had by this time appeared, for news of the strange occurrence had spread rapidly. His opinion was that the bugs that blocked the track were the issue of a rare species of lithodome, a rock-boring mollusk—crossed with some kind of predatory insect. To secure the shipment of the freight it became necessary to let the loaded train from above in the quarry come down the grade of the cut. Gathering momentum all the time, its impetus when it came to the obstruction carried it by the bugs.

LOQUACITY OF BARBERS.

The Conversation Dodge Merely One of the Tricks of the Trade.

"A great deal has been said about the talkativeness of barbers," said a veteran wielder of razors to a New York Telegram man, "but if those who try to be funny on that subject were better posted they would find a reason for it other than the mere loquacity of the barber. We discovered long ago that it was infinitely easier to handle a customer when we could get him interested in conversation. This is particularly true of a nervous or fidgety man, who, if the operation goes on in silence, becomes restless and growls at the razor, or objects to the way in which he is being shaved. The talk takes his mind away from his face, so that he is often surprised to find the work finished when he thought it had scarcely begun.

"You have probably noticed that a barber never gets into an argument with his customer, but that his opinions veer around like a weather vane to suit those of the particular man upon whom he may be operating at the time. The conversation dodge is merely one of the tricks of the trade. Customers who show by their manner that they prefer to be alone with their thoughts while under the razor are never annoyed more than once by the talkative barber.

"Of course there are a few younger members of the tonsorial fraternity who use little judgment in talking to customers, and no one is more amused than their fellow-barbers when they get a set-back from some irascible-tempered victim of their gabble. The facetious young man who used to put small corks in his ears or put on a pair of ear muffs when he climbed into the barber's chair seems to have become extinct."

A Cold Cave.

A great unexplored cave was recently found near Clarion, Pa., which emits a sort of blue fog, chill as from a powerful refrigerator. A pail of water suspended at a depth of ten feet was drawn up after four hours and found to be almost a solid cake of ice. As far as known no living animal could remain in the opening for more than a few minutes.

Purify your Blood

The importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is heredited and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the medicine, tried, does trace of salt rheum, the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. In its preparation, its medicinal merit, and the wonderful cures it accomplishes Hood's Sarsaparilla is Peculiar to Itself. Thousands testify to its success, and the best advertising Hood's Sarsaparilla receives is the hearty endorsement of its army of friends. Every testimonial we publish, and every statement we make on behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla may be relied upon as strictly true in every respect.

If you need a good blood purifier or building up medicine, be sure to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Further information and statements of cures sent free to all who address us as below.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Matters of Interest Going Forward in the Sporting World Here and Elsewhere.

LACROSSE.

SATURDAY'S MATCH.

There was a lacrosse match announced at the Driving Park Saturday. People were told it was to be for the championship of the Province and that the competing teams were Vancouver and New Westminster. These two cities have the credit of securing for themselves all the crack eastern lacrosse players who come along, and it was on this account, and in expectation of a good exhibition of the national game that fully 1200 or 1400 persons turned out Saturday and lined the race track of the V. J. C.

There was some lacrosse at times, and only at times. To any attempt at playing real lacrosse the credit is due to the Westminster boys. They played in with each other very cleverly at times, and it was their several attempts at honest lacrosse that kept up any interest at all. Englishmen who witnessed the sport put it down as a bad, very bad, copy of football. There were several stupid scrimmages, in which sticks were discarded and the players piled themselves on each other in a shapeless mass of bawling, shouting and not very polite humanity. In one of these tussles which took place actually between the posts, and which rivalled the best Rugby football scrimmage, the ball was pushed through by someone's hand, after having been fumbled around in 20 other hands, and the umpire gave the game to Vancouver. There was considerable "kicking" in consequence, but New Westminster was asked to console its sense of loss with the fact that a previous game had been given it on dispute when it didn't win it. This is a poor state of affairs. Some idea of the disgracefulness of the scrimmage may be gathered from the fact that one of the goal poles was broken in the melee. The cry of "foul" was frequent, several unfair blows were struck where no blows at all are required, and in at least one case a man was struck when down. Vancouver plays a man of color who should not be on a lacrosse team for any other purpose than "slugging." It is very rarely that he plays a fair game. For the rest, some of them at times show a knowledge of lacrosse; there was an attempt made now and again at team play, but the players either ignored the beauties of the game or had forgotten whatever they had known.

The first and second games, which lasted 9½ and 5½ minutes respectively, were spurts. Westminster got one and Vancouver the other. The third game was devoted to tests of long throwing, after six minutes of which the game was given to Westminster. It was in one of these games that McKenna, of the New Westminsters (and a good player, too), had his collar bone dislocated, and shortly afterwards Westminster's goal became very sick and had to be numbered off. Mac was what the initiated call "sandwiched" between two Vancouverites.

Vancouver won the 5th and 6th games, leaving the match Vancouver 4, Westminster 2.

There are several points in this match to come before the Association before the matter is settled to the satisfaction of all concerned.

THE TURF.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The following is an extract from a letter from Robert Bonner to the New York World:—"We hear a great deal said about the two-minute trotters. I do not expect to see any horse trot a mile in two minutes. My good friend General Tracy, Secretary of the Navy, says if he is correctly reported, that he expects within two years the two-minute trotter will have arrived. I cannot agree with him, and as proof that I have the courage of my convictions I will give $5000 to see any horse within two years trot a mile in two minutes five seconds, on a regulation track, such as Cleveland, where Maud S. trotted, or other regulation track, such as the Buffalo, Rochester or Hartford."

THE WHEEL.

A bicycle race on ordinaries has been arranged between G. S. Mason and H. J. Walton, two well known Vancouver cyclists. The race, which will be five miles, is for a trophy of the value of $50. Mason is already well known as a bicyclist and has been in several races. He has agreed to give Walton a start of 150 yards, and this will equalise them very fairly. The race will come off at Brockton Point on Saturday, Nov. 7, and it is expected that great interest will be taken in the race.

WONDERS OF LABRADOR.

A Cataract Twice as High as Niagara Seen by Explorers.

A Halifax, N.S., dispatch of October 19th says: The latest visitor to the grand falls of Labrador arrived here recently on his way back to Philadelphia full of the grandeur of what he saw. On June 23rd last, Henry G. Bryant, of Philadelphia, and Prof. Kenaston, of Washington, started from New York to reach these falls, the existence of which at that time was little more than traditional. It was not until September 2nd that their eyes were gladdened by a sight of the falls. Mr. Bryant describes the falls as truly magnificent. The roar makes conversation almost impossible, and they were more than twice as high as Niagara. Aneroid measurements were made, carefully checked by other measurements above the falls. The river makes down for 188 feet at an angle of 30 degrees over its rocky bed. The abrupt descent of the water is 316 feet, and the river here is from 150 to 200 feet wide. The column of mist that arises is very striking and can be seen at a great distance. The banks are extremely rugged. Photographs were taken. The return journey to the coast was made in seven days, while it had taken one month to reach the falls. Prof. Kenaston is still in St. Johns. Mr. Bryant had a large collection of specimens of the structural formation of the country and the region of the falls, and many curios illustrative of Indian life and customs.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA.

THE NORA CLENCH CONCERT.

Those who attend the Nora Clench concerts in the Victoria theatre this evening and to-morrow evening are certain of a treat. The Mainland papers have praised the performances of the company very highly. At Vancouver and New Westminster every number given by Miss Clench was encored. The News Advertiser says: "Before last night this talented lady had only been heard of by reputation by many, but all who were present at the concert were charmed and her title as the greatest Canadian violinist cannot well be disputed. * * * * As the last notes of Home Sweet Home died away she was greeted with loud and prolonged applause, and had to reappear before the audience was satisfied." The Westminster Ledger says: "In 'Hungarian dances' three and seven, Brahms Joachim, Miss Clench again won golden opinions and hearty applause. All Canadians present felt proud to think that the fair young artiste who manipulated the bow with so much grace and power, was one of Canada's own daughters." The other Mainland papers speak of Miss Clench's playing with equal favor. Critics in other places have also praised her work. The Toronto Mail, whose musical critic is a violinist of ability said: "The listeners were astonished at what they heard. Her intonation is absolutely accurate, and her bowing vigorous and yet graceful, while her pose and position are classically perfect." The Oxford, Eng., Magazine: "Her tone is sweet and accurate, and her style strong and entirely free from affectation. It was a treat beyond words to listen to her delicate execution." Mrs. Mackelcan and Mrs. Hamilton, the vocal artists who accompany Miss Clench, have also left a good impression wherever they have appeared. The Vancouver Telegram says: Mrs. Mackelcan's solos were chosen with remarkable aptitude for her magnificent voice, and were well sung. Mrs. George Hamilton has established herself as a Vancouver favorite, and all who heard her last night will be anxious to hear her again." The Westminster Columbian: "Mrs. Mackelcan and Mrs. Hamilton were cordially greeted on their first appearance, and the audience fairly went into raptures over the charming duet 'Estudiantina.' The voices of the ladies blend most beautifully and harmoniously together, a fact again demonstrated in the dear old song 'Down on the Swanee River,' which they gave in response to a very persistent encore. Their voices are strangely sympathetic, and the plaintive air of the sunny south gave full scope to their sweet melody.

THE COMING DRAMATIC EVENT.

For the first time in over a year the popular favorites Joseph R. Grismer and Phœbe Davies, supported by their powerful company, will be with us, appearing at the Victoria theatre on next Monday and Tuesday evenings, the 2nd and 3rd, when they will present two new plays that have never been seen here. On Monday evening that most successful comedy-drama "The Burglar," by Augustus Thomas, author of "Alabama," will be presented, while on Tuesday evening they will give Joseph R. Grismer's picturesque drama "Beacon Lights." Speaking of the former play, the Tacoma Ledger says: "The Burglar," as portrayed at Tacoma theatre is a great success. This very clever play, adapted from Mrs. Burnett's story by Gus Thomas, was produced last night to a crowded house. It was a very friendly assemblage that gathered to welcome Mr. Grismer and Miss Phœbe Davies in their latest venture, and was as critical as it was kindly, but there is very little room for comment, otherwise than complimentary, on the play and performance. We have had during the past two months the best of the New York companies, and have been touched up a little in what acting should be. In view of this fact we are able to thoroughly appreciate the clever work of the people in the cast of "The Burglar." It was a very clever performance in every respect, and it is no wonder that the play has been so successful elsewhere. The author has accomplished quite a feat in producing such a play from the charming little story which forms its basis.

NOTES.

Sam Thall, the energetic advance for the Grismer-Davies Company, is attending to the details of his business, and will remain here until Wednesday.

Royal Dauntless Lodge, C.D.O.F., M. U., will hold a social dance in Blue Ribbon Hall, Esquimalt, on Wednesday evening, November 11th.

The Turkish Bath Company closed their two nights' engagement Saturday evening to a good house, and left by the Sunday morning boat for the Sound.

Thomas W. Keene is pursuing his way to the waters of Puget Sound and of the swift rolling Columbia, with pleasure and profit to himself and the large audiences which invariably greet him wherever he appears. This is his second visit to the great Northwest, and the indications are that his reception this season will be even more cordial than it was last year. Mr. Keene is the last great exemplar of that great school of historic art which had for its archapostles David Garrick, Edmund Kean, Junius Brutus Booth and Edwin Forrest. To-day Mr. Keene stands without a peer as Richard III., Macbeth, Shylock, Richelieu and Louis XI. It is an intellectual treat, to be remembered with delight for a lifetime, to see him interpret one of these great master characters, and every lover of the drama should avail himself of the opportunity to feast his soul which Mr. Keene's present visit will afford. He will be seen in this city October 29th and 30th. Don't forget the date.

The Kansas Farmers' Alliance.

SALINA, KAN., Oct. 23.—Not less than 10,000 farmers, members of the alliance, were in the city to-day to take part in the demonstration. The procession formed and moved to the fair grounds. Here an immense dinner was in waiting for the participants. The chief attraction this afternoon was Congressman Jerry Simpson, who made a speech. While the demonstration was in progress President McGrath delivered his annual address before the council. It was in accord with his oft-repeated declarations that the alliance must preserve a business organization intact; that to enter politics as an organization was to impair its usefulness. He urged the speedy adoption of both the local and general co-operative system, and hoped all jealousy and political differences would be laid aside and united support be given to those in charge of the business affairs of the body. He stated during the past year 249 alliances had been formed. The council then adjourned to take part in the demonstretion.
